

Old Trick, Says Nixon

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon says Republicans must not fall for "the old trick of divide and conquer."

Nixon addressed guests last night at the Santa Monica Republican Club's Lincoln Day dinner.

Democrats, he said, "would like to slice up our party into small packages labeled liberal, conservative, extremist, middle-of-the-roader, or moderate, ultra-conservative or . . . you name it and they have called us that."

"It is the old trick of divide and conquer. And, we must not fall for it."

Speed Record Claimed

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—The Military Air Transport Service today claimed a speed record for a contract jet flight from Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, to Travis.

The plane was a Pan American World Airways Boeing 707 jet flown by Louis Cogliani of Los Altos. Assisted by tail winds averaging 113 knots, it covered the 2,370-mile route in three hours 49 minutes.

Aboard the 622-mile-an-hour flight were 159 persons, mainly servicemen and their families.

Mays Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Willie Mays was arrested earlier this week for not paying $39 in traffic tickets, police revealed yesterday.

The star San Francisco Giants outfielder, baseball's highest-paid player, was booked but released moments later when he paid the $39.

One ticket was $34 for a speeding violation last August. The other was a $5 parking citation dating back to August, 1959.

Cuba Ouster Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—Formal ouster of Cuba from the inter-American system is expected Wednesday at a meeting of the Council of the Organization of American States.

The hemisphere's foreign ministers, meeting last month at Punta del Este, Uruguay, directed the council to expel Communist Cuba.

After the council takes its expected action, the U.S. government plans to request the Cuban delegation to leave the country.

Kennedy In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy landed at this British colony within sight of Red China today and said the Communist world has far more problems than the West.

Delayed two hours by a heavy fog covering Hong Kong, Kennedy came here after a three-hour stopover in Taipei, Formosa, en route from Japan.

The U.S. attorney general's visit here was chiefly for rest before continuing his goodwill tour.

Spain, Portugal Talks

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco, Spanish chief of state, and Portugal's Prime Minister Antonio Oliveira Salazar will discuss the possible integration of Spain and Portugal into the Federation of the Iberian Peninsula, reliable sources reported.

The meeting, according to these sources, may take place tomorrow or Monday at the urgent request of Salazar, in Salamanca Province, 15 miles east of the Portuguese border.

Quemoy Shelled

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Communists fired 110 shells against the Nationalist-held Quemoy Islands yesterday.

The sporadic action was the first of its kind since The Year of the Tiger, the Chinese New Year, began Monday. The shooting lasted one hour and 58 minutes.

'Insane With Grief When Wife Shot'

San Gabriel contractor Robert Burdette Rogers, 43, killed his wife in a San Rafael home in August of 1959 because he was insane with grief and jealousy over his wife's affairs with another man, defense lawyer George T. Davis declared yesterday.

Davis made the statement in reply to the opening statement of Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, who gave the jury a picture of what he considers cold-blooded murder with a 30-30 rifle. Davis will continue his opening statement when trial resumes at 10 a.m. next Wednesday.

A jury of nine women and three men and two alternates, were picked yesterday after four days of intensive questioning. A panel of almost 150 veniremen was nearly exhausted before both sides accepted the jurors.

This is a re-trial for Rogers, who was convicted of second degree murder the first time. That conviction was reversed by the state Supreme Court.

This trial is expected to take from four to six weeks before

Weather Losing Some Of Punch

Wind and rainstorm that slammed Marin and the Bay Area Thursday night and yesterday slackened somewhat today, as residents and business firms mopped up the damage.

In contrast to yesterday when two to three inches of rain had fallen in many Marin areas in a 24-hour period, most sections reported less than an inch of rain from 8 a.m. yesterday to 8 a.m. today.

Today's forecast was for occasional light rain tonight and tomorrow, some sunshine today and more tomorrow, with winds down to 12 to 25 miles an hour in contrast to gusts that reached 85 miles an hour at Mount Tamalpais Thursday night.

The weatherman figured on a 60 per cent chance for more rains today, 40 per cent tomorrow.

Meanwhile new damage was reported. The basement of Lillian A. Lovell of 1201 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, was flooded last night. The roof blew off the home of William Ziegler at 1185 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, at 2:25 p.m. yesterday. A section of the roof blew off the Nelson King residence at 120 Camino de Herrera, San Anselmo, at 6:25 p.m.

A Glenwood home took one of the heaviest beatings in the San Rafael area. Winds tore the front porch off the home of Albert J. Cerf, 3 Ashwood Drive.

Things Bustin' Out All Over At Juanita's

By CATHERINE O'TOOLE

A fight erupted in Juanita's Galley early this morning leaving one man injured and two others lodged in the county jail.

"It was a pure riot but, if the police had to arrest anyone I don't see why it had to be my employee and his friend who were trying to restore order," said owner Juanita Musson.

According to Juanita, the melee started about 3 a.m. this morning when a customer, Wendell Spangler, forcibly tried to remove the hat of another customer.

"This isn't exactly a white tie and tails place," said Juanita, "so if someone wants to keep his hat on that's his business. We have no rules about it."

Juanita said that the customer with the hat resisted having it removed.

"Then Bobby Scanlon jumped up and got in on the act," said Juanita. "The next thing

U-2 Pilot Powers Freed In Exchange For Spy

Flown To States; Student Released

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — Imprisoned U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers was freed by the Russians on a Berlin bridge today and immediately flew back to this country to face questioning by U. S. officials.

Powers was set free in exchange for Soviet master spy Rudolf Abel in a dramatic early-morning trade on Glienicke Bridge between East Germany and West Berlin.

Informed sources said the exchange was held up for about 20 minutes while a check was made to confirm the release of a second American in the exchange—Frederic L. Pryor, 28, an economics student held by the East Germans.

U.S. authorities immediately hurried Powers into a plane and whisked him across the Atlantic where other officials were waiting to question him about what caused his high-flying reconnaissance plane to crash in Russia.

A joyous reunion with his wife and parents also awaited Powers. But the exact time and location of his arrival were kept a closely guarded secret. Hours after he was winging his way homeward members of his family said they did not know where they would meet him.

Release of the flier, who was sentenced to 10 years in prison for spying after his U-2 crashed deep inside Russia on May 1, 1960, was announced early this morning by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger.

At a noon press briefing, however, Salinger refused to give any details on Powers' return except to say he was en route and would return today or tomorrow.

It was learned, however, that Powers was returning on a propeller-driven plane.

Sources said he would immediately be whisked away by government officials and would not be available to newsmen for five to 10 days.

This is the procedure followed when two RB-47 crew members were freed by the Russians a little more than a year ago.

Abel, a colonel in the Soviet intelligence service, was sentenced to 30 years in 1957.

Pryor, who had been held since he vanished on a visit to East Berlin Aug. 25, was released at Checkpoint Charlie.

PUBLISHERS MEETING

Governor Expects 'Fairness' In Press

CORONADO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who is seeking re-election, yesterday told the California Newspaper Publishers Assn. delegates he expects "fair and equitable" treatment in the press during the campaign.

"I am looking forward to fair and equitable treatment by the press, radio and television . . . and to continued editorial support for my administration from a substantial portion of the press," Brown said at the convention.

"Many of you have disagreed with me, as you have disagreed with one another, on the means we should employ to reach our mutual goal of a greater and more prosperous California."

"But I feel certain that our major goal is mutual. On how to reach it, I will welcome your suggestions and criticisms in the future as I have in the past," Brown said.

He admitted giving some newsmen a bad time in the past "when I felt I had received less than the best treatment. From what I see and hear, however, this is one of the common idiosyncrasies of all politicians."

"By and large California's press, radio and television have covered my administration accurately and fairly," Brown said.

He commended the publishers for recognizing the John Birch Society and other right-wing extremist groups "as a threat to free government."

"It is a credit to the perception of California publishers that you immediately recognized the nature of the beast."

"Leaders of the Soviet Union have sown the seeds of distrust and dissension. So have the John Birchers."

"Like fear-crazed sheep in a thunderstorm they beat their prophecies of doom but cannot plan for survival," Brown

Clem Miller Is Injured In Auto Smashup

Congressman Clem Miller (D-Corte Madera), injured yesterday on an ice-slick road in New York, was in good condition today at a hospital in Cobleskill, N. Y.

Miller, 45, and his wife Katherine were driving from Washington, D. C., to a conference at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass., when his car went out of control on slushy pavement, according to William Duddleson, Miller's legislative assistant. Their car hit a tree, knocking Miller unconscious.

Duddleson said Miller suffered a bump on the head and knee lacerations which required 12 stitches. Mrs. Miller was shaken up but unhurt. When Miller realized he was going to crash, he flung himself in front of his wife to protect her, Duddleson reported.

Duddleson talked to Mrs. Miller both last night and this morning and learned that the Congressman is in "fine condition." He was to be held at the hospital for a day or two for observation.

Heavy snow fell yesterday in New York, and slushy roads were turning to ice as the Millers headed for Williams College. He was to discuss "Careers in Government Service" at the college's annual Career Weekend Conference.

Forty-five minutes after Miller entered the Schoharie County Community Hospital in Cobleskill, another accident victim arrived at the same hospital. He too had lost control of the car at the same turn where the Miller mishap occurred.

The Millers' five daughters were safe at their Washington home.

Civic Center Landscape Bids To Be Called For

Architect Aaron Green was authorized by Marin County supervisors yesterday to call for bids, to be opened March 6, on a civic center and fairgrounds landscaping contract.

Included will be a clock-operated automatic sprinkler system expected cost about $45,000, but to save around $10,000 yearly on manpower.

The fairgrounds landscaping in its preliminary phase will cost about $35,000, all coming from state money, according to Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell. With this will be the early portion of the civic center grounds with a tentative estimate of another $35,000.

Green spent nearly two hours of a special session yesterday afternoon in showing plans and explaining many points, after announcing that finished drawings and a rough draft of specifications had been completed.

He said it was felt that efficiency would be furthered and lower prices obtained by offering work on fairgrounds and civic center together, but contractors would be given an option of doing the jobs concurrently or in sequence.

Salt water will be put into the big lagoon initially, Green explained, partly because of estimates that replacement of evaporation and seepage would cost $6,000 to $8,000 yearly in case of fresh water. Another factor is that a clay bottom is to be laid and salt water, initially allowed to evaporate, will bind this into a tight container.

"After the fair has developed," said Green, "concessions around the lagoon should pay for it and it would be better as a fresh water lagoon."

"We've found, moreover, that there is much seepage from the higher ground. Irrigation will increase this supply so it might compensate for the

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle, moving swiftly toward peace with the Algerian rebels, was under attack today from the right and the left, both seemingly intent on toppling his government before he can bring it off.

The right-wing Secret Army Organization directs its terrorist campaign to keep Algeria French at the de Gaulle government in hopes that his fall would bring on a Paris government more to its liking, if not of its choosing.

France's big Communist party sees in the rightist shootings and bombings a tailor-made excuse to rally opposition to the de Gaulle government. The Communists are on record as supporting Algerian independence, and presumably would be expected to help de Gaulle achieve this goal.

But the Communists are obviously looking beyond. They have always wanted de Gaulle out, but had been unable to dent his popular backing among the great majority of Frenchmen.

Now, however, for the first time since de Gaulle came to power in June 1958, the Communist party appears to have aroused serious discontent against government authority. Unable to hurt him with frontal attacks, the Communists are making headway at his flank by using the secret army as an issue.

Public anger is aroused, both at the rightists for their terrorist activities that daily become more numerous and bolder in France itself, and at the government for its seeming inability to put the rightists down.

Interior Minister Roger Frey charged that the Communists provoked Thursday night's bloody rioting that broke out during a leftist-called demonstration of 10,000 against the secret army. Eight persons were killed; 140 policemen and uncounted numbers of demonstrators were injured.

Maurice Legay, director of municipal police, blamed the violence on "organized and trained commando groups of 25 to 30 persons" each with a leader and acting "like well-trained soldiers."

France's Communist party has drawn as many as five-million votes in postwar elections in this nation of 60 millions, but is not itself large enough to force de Gaulle out. It declared in a statement yesterday that the party was "always ready to collaborate on all grounds with all parties, movements and men who have decided to carry out the political change that is already under way."

Socialist and labor unionists, students and even actress Brigitte Bardot joined the Communists in a strike protesting alleged police savagery in controlling the riot.

Thus the Communists seemed to have at least partially established cooperation with the moderate left, hopefully leading toward a popular front against de Gaulle.

The United States today also demonstrated again its right of access to the 110-mile-wide highway through East Germany that leads into West Berlin.

The Army sent a convoy of about 20 trucks and jeeps and 100 men through Communist East Germany for training in the West.

CONVOY

The convoy passed through Russian checkpoints at both ends of the Berlin-Helmstedt highway without incident, the Army said.

But West Berlin police reported that a Communist border guard fired at a West Berlin policeman who climbed a ladder against Berlin's anti-refugee wall and tried to look into East Berlin. The bullets missed but dug into the wall and sent splinters flying past the policeman's ear, it was reported.

Police said three Communist guards tossed five tear gas grenades at two Western policemen at the same spot in the French sector.

The Russians had announced that on the morning of both days the corridors up to 7,500 and 7,500 feet would be reserved for Russian military flights.

Nation Hit By Bad Weather

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Bad weather hit both coasts today. Heavy rains and high winds whipped parts of the West Coast, while winter carried snow eastward along a broken path to the Atlantic seaboard.

The worst rainstorm in six years caused flooding and closed schools in the Los Angeles area yesterday, and up to an inch and a half more wetness was predicted for Southern California today.

Hundreds were homeless as water ran six to eight feet deep in lowland suburbs of Los Angeles, and falling rocks and mud slides strangled transportation along coastal and mountain roads.

The fierce storm dumped six inches of rain in a Santa Monica canyon, and nearly an inch and a half fell during six-hour nighttime period on the Naval Air Station at Pt. Mugu.

Moisture-laden winds dumped more rain and snow further inland during the night from Oregon to western Montana and southward to Nevada. Up to four feet of new snow fell in the Sierras.

In the east, up to three inches of snow fell from eastern Pennsylvania through New York to the New England coast, where heavy snow warnings remained posted.

Cold air drifted from the Great Lakes to the gulf coast during the night accompanied by snow in the lakes region, the Upper Mississippi Valley and northern plains.

The warmer weather predicted for the Midwest today raised hopes of freeing eight barges locked in a huge Mississippi River ice jam behind a dam at Alton, Ill. The dam gates were opened last night, permitting hundreds of acres of ice to flow through and creating a clear channel about one-third the width of the river. Heavy boats were trying to break through to the barges, locked in up to 12 feet of ice. It was feared the trapped barges, some loaded with grain and chemicals, might rip loose and damage the navigational dam.

Romney Announces He Will Run For Governor

DETROIT (AP) — Industrialist George Romney announced today he will seek the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan.

But he said he will not become an active candidate until "completion of my responsibilities as a constitutional convention delegate." Romney is a delegate to a Michigan constitutional convention that is expected to complete redraft of the state's 1908 basic law by the end of March.

Romney, American Motors Corp. president, was accompanied by his wife and son, Mitt, 14, when he announced at a news conference his intention to enter politics. He limited himself initially to the bare declaration of candidacy, and told newsmen he would meet them later for an extended statement.

Romney, 54, against whom Republican leaders anticipate no August primary opposition, presumably will contest with Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson, 36, now in his first term. Democrats have held the Michigan governorship for 13 years.

Swainson, in commenting on Romney's announcement, said: "After the longest publicity countdown in Michigan political history, the announcement comes as quite an anti-climax and surprises no one.

"It is curious, however, that someone who has complained about the sorry record of the Republican party and about being forced to publicly identify himself as a Republican, now is so eager to become its leader.

"Democratic candidates, with good reason, take great pride in their party and its record."

Romney's scheduled news conference followed a night of seclusion at his Bloomfield Hills suburban home, where he prayerfully sought "guidance beyond that of man." A devout Mormon, he occupies a post in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and equivalent to that of a bishop. The two-year term of Michigan's next governor would end

A 19-year-old Greenbrae youth, who used a pair of scissors to cut the pony tail off a 9-year-old girl last month, won a four months' continuance in Marin Municipal Court yesterday.

Jerry Lee Hertler of 52 Greenbrae Boardwalk appeared before Judge Joseph G. Wilson, who set the next court date as June 15. Deputy Dist. Atty. Thomas T. Storer recommended the continuance and indicated that the complaint against Hertler may be dropped in June.

Storer explained that Hertler is under medical care, and the district attorney's office will be supervising the youth for the next four months. "After thoroughly studying the case, we felt no purpose would be served by pressing the complaint at this time," said Storer.

The pony tail belonged to Roberta Ann McConkey of Hamilton Air Force Base, who was at the Corte Madera Shopping Center on Jan. 5 when Hertler cut off about five inches of her tresses.

The girl's parents have agreed with the district attorney's recommendation, Storer reported.

Scout Paper Drive Slated

Mill Valley Cubs, Scouts, Explorers and Sea Scouts, who use Scout Hall on East Blithedale Avenue, will hold a newspaper collection drive April 14. Collections will commence at 9 a.m. and end at 5 p.m.

Persons who have not had their papers picked by 2 p.m. may get in touch with co-chairmen Lowell Jett of 60 Alta Vista Avenue, or Clay Underhill of 110 Evergreen Avenue and someone will come for the papers, Underhill said.

Underhill added that people should make bundles small and keep them tied so that Cub Scouts will be able to handle them.

Action On 2 Bruce Requests Delayed

Action on two requests by County Administrator Alan Bruce was delayed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday as personnel commission chairman Julius H. Selinger intervened on one of them.

The board delayed discussing a definition of Bruce's functions after Supervisor William D. Fusselman said he had not read Bruce's letter of Jan. 12 on the request. Indication was the matter might be discussed next week.

Selinger asked to be heard as Clerk George S. Jones read Bruce's letter of Jan. 15 asking for an administrative assistant.

He said if there is to be an assistant county administrator "or some other person" that person should be one "to make the merit system operate."

Bruce replied the assistant would rarely if ever handle personnel matters.

"During the entire term of my administration the merit system has been fully carried out," he told Selinger.

Selinger complained he was unaware of personnel actions of Bruce's office for several months, particularly since Bruce discharged Stella Hughes as assistant personnel director.

"This is not the time to bring out the Hughes matter," put in Supervisor William D. Fusselman.

Selinger appealed for a definition of the relationship of his commission and Bruce's office. Supervisor Peter Behr, sup-

Scanlon, known as Irish Bobby, is ex-New York State lightweight boxing champion, according to Juanita.

"Scanlon knocked a young guy, who was standing nearby, to the floor and then took off before the police arrived," said Juanita.

According to Juanita the floor was littered with glass that had been broken in the melee and a man named Nick Gaines cut his hand when he fell to the floor.

Gaines, of 167 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a lacerated right hand and released to home.

The two men arrested by Sausalito Police on a citizen's warrant were Alexander Foster Nolan Hines, 20, and Lee Andrew Higgins, 23, both of Marin City.

They were booked at the county jail for disturbing the peace at 3:45 a.m. on a complaint signed by Homer Winfield of 186 Morning Side Drive, Mill Valley. Winfield claimed that the men resembled two who had slugged him during the fight, according to the Sausalito police.

According to Juanita, who secured the release of the two men from jail on $105 bail each, Hines is her employee whose job it is to keep order in the restaurant.

"The arrest of these men is the craziest thing that I ever heard of and I intend registering a complaint at the district attorney's office the first thing Monday morning," said Juanita. "All Hines was doing was trying to restore order. That's his job. Higgins was merely trying to help Hines."

Juanita said that the Galley had been "almost completely wrecked" during the fighting, with glass and splintered wood littering the floor.

"I'm not trying to reform anyone just because I've given up drinking but I need every penny I can get and I just can't afford this type of thing," said Juanita. "I don't like the idea of innocent people getting hurt just because a couple of people drink too much."

Marin Budget Preparation Set To Begin

Preparation of the fiscal 1963 county budget will begin next Wednesday with start of discussions between County Administrator Alan Bruce and department heads, the Marin County Board of Supervisors decided yesterday.

On suggestion of Chairman Walter R. Castro, the board approved a schedule prepared by Bruce, calling for the discussions with department heads to run to March 2.

Budget requests will be submitted March 19 and reviewed by Bruce and the auditor-controller from March 26 to April 6. A proposed budget will be drawn up between April 9 and May 21. Bruce will submit salary recommendations to the supervisors June 1. These will be reviewed by the board with department heads June 11.

From June 12 to June 22 the board and department heads will review a preliminary budget. The board will adopt it with salary changes June 26.

The preliminary budget will be published by Aug. 1, with hearings running from Aug. 13 to 17. The final budget will be adopted and the county tax rate set on Aug. 21.

Supervisor William Gnos of Novato expressed sorrow that not much of the initial fairgrounds planting, comprising mostly boundary trees, could be seen by his constituents motoring by on Highway 101.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman who finally moved the call for bids with a second by Supervisor George Ludy, worried over the scrubby appearance of oaks now on the property and feared the soil was poor. Green and county agricultural commissioner Richard T. Straw gave reassurance that there would be fertilizer, and even possibly some forcible feeding for oaks now in occupancy.

"People are going to suffer a let-down if we go in immediately after use of the Marin Art and Garden Center," ruminated Fusselman.

"It will take 30 or 40 years at least to develop anything like that, if ever," said Mitchell.

But Green felt the planting along fairgrounds boundaries, at least, will be initially so thick that thinning-out will be necessary in 10 years. Elsewhere the trees will be skinny and far apart at first.

NEWSPAPER INTERESTS SHIFTING

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UP) — The president of the Wall Street Journal said today that the image of the American newspaper is changing from the mass-minded big city paper to the lively community paper.

Bernard Kilgore delivered the William Allen White lecture at the University of Kansas.

He received the 13th annual national award for journalistic merit, presented by the William Allen White Foundation.

Mill Valleyan Gets Employment Post

F. W. Mosher Jr. of Mill Valley has been named to take over the technical services position with the State Department of Employment in San Francisco.

Mosher, formerly veterans employment representative, lives at 327 Robin Road. His new post is one in which he is to coordinate labor market information and analyze data on employment and unemployment.

Five Nominees Named For Redistrict Unit

Five nominees for an intended 10-member advisory committee on supervisory redistricting of Marin County were put on the record yesterday as supervisors concluded a special session.

The committee must be appointed in accordance with law passed by the state legislature, but its powers will be limited to giving its ideas on possible changes in boundaries of the five districts.

Each supervisor will name two from his district but only Chairman Walter R. Castro had decided on his quota—County Clerk George S. Jones and County Assessor Bert Broemel.

George Thierbach of Corte Madera, member of the board of the Marin Municipal Water District, was proposed by Supervisor William R. Fusselman who said he'd bring in another name next Tuesday.

Capt. Adolph Oke, Point Reyes Station real estate dealer who was a leading figure in the charter battle several years ago, was nominated by Supervisor George Ludy.

Winifred S. Frederick, vice president of the San Geronimo Valley Assn. in Forest Knolls, was named by Supervisor William Gnos.

Supervisor Peter Behr was absent at the time the subject came up at the end of the session.

Industrial Foundation Urges 'Marine World'

The Marin Industrial Development Foundation yesterday recommended the Mill Valley City Council approve the proposed "Marinworld" development for the marshland, saying "we strongly feel the facility is one of great value educationally, recreationally and economically to Mill Valley and Marin."

The plan was recommended as "highly meritorious" and "worthy of sympathetic consideration" in a letter signed by executive vice president and manager Carroll A. Snyder.

Sausalito Dredging Hearing Set

Discussion of possible dredging of the Sausalito Canal in Richardson Bay was set for 3 p.m. hearing Feb. 20 at a special meeting of county supervisors yesterday.

The county counsel requested such a meeting because of problems which have arisen in connection with efforts to set up an assessment district.

A letter from the Army Engineers in San Francisco said that though Congress authorized survey of the canal, no funds were made available. If the funds become available next year, said the engineers, the study will be made — "but there is no way of determining favorable."

The Army Engineers suggested maybe an assessment district be considered.

A 'Vacation' Well Spent

Story and Sketches
By PAUL MILLER

The highlight of a Mill Valley dentist's three-week vacation this year was pulling 100 teeth in two days out of the mouths of residents of Iroacas, Costa Rica.

It was a "vacation" for Dr. Belman C. Maddox of 347 Richardson Way, because he was on annual leave from his practice for the Army at Fort Baker, and it was the "highlight" because it was the most trying and productive two days of three weeks of donated labor as an American church layman in rural Costa Rica.

Dr. Maddox was with three other members of the Mill Valley Community Methodist Church, all in the professions, who worked during their vacation periods as a medical missionary team. The others were Dr. Garfield F. Burkhardt of 26 Somerset Lane, C. Douglas Billion of 51 Reed Boulevard and Rev. Russell G. Oaks, 102 Valley Circle, Mill Valley.

Dr. Burkhardt is a physician for the United States Public Health Service in San Francisco, and Billion is a physiotherapist for the same agency. Rev. Oaks is pastor of the Community Church and organized the team.

JEEP GIVEN

"It took little persuasion," says the pastor. "All I did was mention the possibility." The congregation also liked the idea and paid $500 travel expenses per man, purchased a second hand jeep which was given to American missionaries when the team came home, and helped contribute to $2,000 worth of medical supplies donated by several drug companies and private physicians, both of Marin and San Francisco. The three laymen and pastor donated their time and work. Also $1,000 was given by the church and others to missionaries for scholarship money for promising Costa Rican youths.

The four Marinites went without their families. They returned to Marin the week before last. Generally their work was in outlying villages where few if any medical men go.

"It was a mission of friendship," explains Rev. Oaks, "an effort to live up to the Christian principle that all men are brothers in Christ." The pastor described his title on the team as "handyman." He was dental assistant, mechanic, spokesman, and spiritual leader. Early morning devotions excepted, the spiritual aspect of the mission was just plain down to dusk work.

GOOD HEALTH

Dr. Burkhardt, who had planned to attend the World's Fair during his vacation this year, examined much, treated when he could, and sought to show residents and patients who attended the nine different clinics the team established in private homes, that good health was possible through knowledge and carefulness. It was not an entirely new experience for the physician. He had done similar work for Navajo Indians.

Five of the nine clinics were established in river-bank villages, where the team was given shelter, rice, beans and friendship. Sometimes sleeping on wooden floors was uncomfortable, and eating similar and unsanitary food daily was unpalatable, but the hospitality was unparalleled.

Although Dr. Burkhardt performed some minor surgery, much of his work was treating persons who had internal parasites from unboiled jungle river water. He also saw many youngsters suffering from malnutrition, due not to the lack of food, but to the lack of a variety of it.

Because of the temporary circumstances and the lack of adequate equipment in the jungle areas, Dr. Maddox—a Korean War veteran—was able to examine, advise, pull teeth that hurt, and give away tooth brushes to youngsters whose cutters were healthy enough to need brushing. The Mill Valley dentist also carried on a minimum program of dental health education.

Last year Dr. Maddox just laid around on his vacation. "And it's still not a bad idea," he confessed to Rev. Oaks after they saw in two days, 250 patients (100 of whom had their teeth pulled) in the west coast village of Iroacas.

Billion, who gave up a leisurely trip to Maryland with his family to join the team, was the pharmacist for the other two medicos. He also did some physiotherapy work.

Rev. Oaks, an Army medic during World War II, in addition to dental assistance, fixed locked brakes on the jeep that broke down in the mud between villages, and was a liaison man between the Marin team and missionaries. The team's interpreter was American Leon Miller, an agricultural missionary of the Methodist Church serving in Central America.

What is even more satisfying about the venture, believes Rev. Oaks, is the future. Contacts will be continued, with supplies being sent secular Costa Rican doctors; CARE packages will be sent; and scholarships awarded, the first one to an intern doctor studying in Mexico who now will be able to serve the area the team left. And in two or three years, if another team, this time of American farmers, carpenters, and engineers, will go down they can count on being wanted because of the effort of the first team.

PRO-AMERICAN

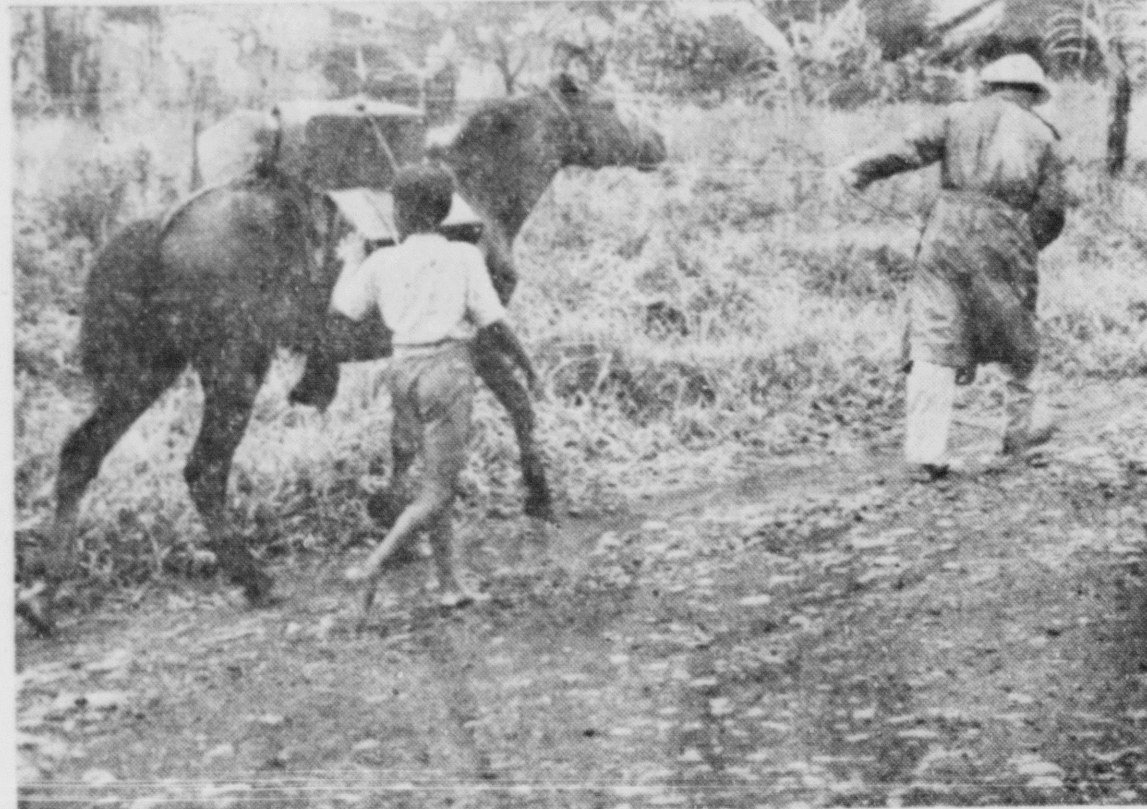

"That's one reason we chose Costa Rica. The country's government provides as well as it can afford for most of the inhabitants, but the rural and jungle areas pose too much of a problem, and it is glad to have us help and so are those we help," explained Rev. Oaks.

And what has this medical team done for its own church in Mill Valley?

"Except for youth groups, Sunday evening meetings in our church—as in many churches—are attended by just about no one. Last Sunday, when a report on the Costa Rica trip was given, the place was packed."

TODAY'S FASHIONS

New Hosiery Shades Will Enhance Normal Skin Tone

Never before have I seen so many lovely new hosiery shades, and never before have I seen such discretion used in keeping these shades in subtle soft tints that flatter beautifully, without being the least bit brazen about it! The hosiery industry seems to have taken a page out of the cosmetician's handbook in creating new tones that complement your costume, or enhance the normal skin tones of the leg. Wonderfully new, too, is the fact that most of today's hosiery offers much longer wear through the introduction of flex welts and run-guards in welts, toes and heels to add more strength—even to the sheerest of sheers. You'll love the beautiful apricot, peach and coral shades that give a warm glow to the leg and enhance its complexion. Silvery blues and whispery grayed blues (much lighter and more delicate than last season's) look cool and sophisticated. There's a wide range of golden tones and light creamy beiges. Newest of the new are mint and lime greens—these to be worn with a color-coordinated ensemble. Finally, you'll be able to choose from a range of sun-tan shades to put legs in color harmony with more heavily tanned arms and face. When hosiery shopping, do plan to buy at least two pairs of each shade, so in case of a last-minute accident before an important date, you'll have an extra in the exact shade you want to wear.

YOUR FASHION PROBLEM? MRS. EG. BELFLOWER, CALIF. "I have rather heavy legs which the new shorter skirts just emphasize all the more. What can I do to make them appear more attractive?"

ANSWER: There are several good exercises which, if religiously followed will work wonders to slim down legs and thighs. In addition, wear your skirts a little longer than the mid-knee fashion and stick to seamed hosiery. It's much more slimming than non-seamed.

WHAT'S YOUR FASHION PROBLEM? Write to Carol Colby, 8462 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles 69, California. While she cannot answer personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Housing Payment Has Health Bill, Fun Facilities

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A mammoth housing development being built here for senior citizens calls for provision of medical care.

The project is underway, even as the controversy goes in in Washington on subsidized medical care for the aged.

The development, including 6,750 own-your-own apartments, insured medical care programs and recreational facilities, is a cooperative institution at Ross Moor Leisure World at Seal Beach. It will be operated and administered by a non-profit organization.

"The plan is a giant step by free enterprise—which indicates that it can come up with practical solutions to the housing and medical needs of the older segment of the population," said Lewis M. Letson, foundation administrator.

The average income of the persons who purchased the first 844 apartments is about $4,000 annually.

The medical program included in the rent—from $93 to $103 per month—provides diagnosis and treatment services by the project staff of doctors and nurses, laboratory and X-ray examinations, drugs, physical therapy, visiting nurse and ambulance service.

The development has no steps or stairs. Only ramps, grades and rolled street curbs are used.

Outdoor Art Club 'Suppressed Desires' Revealed At Jinks

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Thursday's latest production of Mill Valley's Outdoor Art Club Jinks that was started as a tradition in 1902 culminated in a singing ovation for Mrs. Stewart Bostwick, who announced that this would be the last year of the many years she has served as general chairman.

Festivities opened with sherry served by Mrs. Roger Verran and Mrs. John Lennon—garbed as flappers—who also did decor consisting of letters in the work "Jinks" used as mobiles.

Followed a luncheon served under the direction of Mesdames Robert Andresen, A.B. Goddard and Edward Johnson the afternoon of hilarious capers started with community singing led by Mrs. Otto Weisich.

MC'd by Mrs. Edmund Mahon dressed as a little girl—but with a stentorian voice—skits portraying the theme, "Suppressed Desires" were enacted with the help of a French hypnotist, Monsieur Coupe Chevrolet (Mrs. G. A. Harrison) who enabled participants to release their suppressed desires.

In a trance Mrs. Gerhardt von Bonin became a fluent linguist in French, and Raggedy Ann and Andy (Mesdames Fred Bitgood and Raymond Kopf) shed their nursery character in a twist dance.

Mrs. Lewis Simes had her wish to play in a music ensemble fulfilled in the strangest one ever assembled, composed of Mesdames James Bell, Robert Moore, James Long and John Nahapiet.

Mrs. John Coutlee became the leading ballerina of a corps de ballet made up of Mesdames John V. Buckley, Larry Brink, Irvin Larsen and Mrs. Mahon. Mrs. William Searles "Played the flute," and Mrs. Joseph Brewster soared to lyric heights as Jenny Lind, accompanied on the guitar by Mrs. T. F. Colison.

The finale was the singing salute to Mrs. Bostwick as a "Jolly Good Fellow."

Much of the afternoon's fun was due to the appearance of members in extraordinary costumes.

President Mrs. Alvin Baukol was glamorous in a silky green wig because she "adores the color green."

Most popular costume worn by many was the muu muu, with Mrs. Richard Bennett and Mrs. Fred Peters frankly admitting the lure of the islands by wearing the signs, "I Want to Go Back."

Another popular suppressed ambition was that of being opera or concert singers as shown by Mesdames Earl Reinke as Madame Butterfly, Wayne Speckmann as Brunhilde the Valkyrie, and Lowell Jett as a concert artist.

Mrs. Jack Lentz as Cleopatra and Mrs. Lelie Jonas as her handmaiden rivaled their latest portrayal by movie queens, and Mrs. John Hurley peered into the future as a swami.

In gold togs Mrs. J. M. Hahn longed to play par golf, while Mrs. James Bell in curlers and general deshabille longed "not to have to dress for club."

Mrs. Searles was an actress in the role of Hamlet's Ophelia; Mrs. William Niederker wore the kind of bridge hand she'd like to play; and Mrs. Horace Cagwin was a "platinum blond rat (Zsa Zsa) complete with whiskers."

Among others in costume were Mesdames Jay Chilton as Scherazade, Courtland Chilton as a little girl and Howard Lieben as a roughneck.

Notable for always being present in costume at the jinks was life member Mrs. W. O. Perkins in a mandarin coat.

All that can be said of Mrs. Earle Marsh's costume is that it was indescribable.

Palmer Pulling Away From Pack At Phoenix

By HAL WOOD

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — The incomparable Arnold Palmer was in a position today of making a complete farce of the $35,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament.

Palmer, in just one tremendous blow with a one-iron, boosted his lead over the field to five strokes yesterday and entered the third round with only the unshakable Art Wall anywhere near in contention.

The great man from Miami, by way of Latrobe, Pa., has a 36-hole score of 132 — 10 strokes under par. He is five shots ahead of Wall, who has 137. And he is seven shots ahead of six others—who still believe they can catch him.

One of the men at 139, along with National Open king Gene Littler and former PGA champion Bob Rosburg, is young Bob McCallister, Claremont, Calif. And he isn't giving up.

NO CINCH

"This isn't a benefit tournament for Palmer yet," said McCallister. "He's no cinch."

Palmer agrees. Anything can happen in golf. But it's kind of tough spotting a man like Palmer five to seven holes in 36 holes—and then try to catch him.

"This is one of the fastest starts I've ever made," said Arnie after his round. "I played just as well as when I shot the 64 on opening day. But my putts weren't dropping."

The big blow in his great arsenal of shots came on the seventh hole yesterday — or, more properly, the 16th, because he played the back nine first. This is a par-five, 549-yard hole. He clouted his drive about 290 yards. Then he pulled out the trusty one-iron and belted it with all his might.

He was only one-under-par when he struck the ball. But when it came to rest 260 yards away, just 30 inches from the hole, he came up with an eagle — and gained two strokes on Wall.

Others tied at 139 are Don Massengale, Jacksboro, Tex.; Gardner Dickinson, Tequesta, Fla.; and Johnny Pott, Ocean Springs, Miss.

The best round shot yesterday was a 67 by Gay Brewer, Crystal River, Fla., who posted a 141 total. That tied him with PGA champion Jerry Barber; Bill Collins, Miami, Fla.; Rex Baxter, Amarillo, Tex., and Dave Hill, Denver, Colo.

YACHTING ROUNDUP

Championships Will Be On Block Sunday

By ALFRED MATSON

The fifth, and final, regatta of the Corinthian Mid Winter series Sunday is an event of considerable moment to the Bay Area sailors whose championship crowns await the final point reckoning.

In the Golden Gate class, for instance, John Benone's Impulse II, Golden Gate Y.C., and Bob Luby's Joy II, Aeolian Y.C. are tied with 11½ points each and Mike Shea's Lively Lady, San Francisco Y.C. is close astern with 9½ points.

A real battle might well develop in the Triton class, as well. It is a neck and neck race with Dave Smith's Saramelas, Richmond Y.C., but ¼ point ahead of Sally Mathews Arion, San Francisco Y.C., the point scores being 38½ and 38. Should the Arion triumph, it will mean a clean sweep for the lady sailor of Belvedere as she won the Golden Gate Y.C. championship in their final race last Sunday.

Hamilton Gets 3 Titles In Ring Tourney

Three Hamilton Air Force Base boxers won championships last night in the finals of the third annual Pacific Coast Inter-Service Tournament at Hamilton.

A capacity crowd of 2,000 cheered the post-program awards ceremonies in which Hamilton's Ralph McCoy was named the tournament's outstanding fighter after winning the light middleweight title with a decision over Camp Pendleton Marine Joe Clark.

The other Hamilton titlists were middleweight Dean Harrison, winner by decision over Pendleton's Roosevelt Sanders, and bantamweight Arthur Jones, victor, also by decision, over Joe Gaiter of Hunters Point Navy, San Francisco.

Two other Hamilton finalists lost their bouts. Flyweight Jose Quesada was decisioned by Pendleton's Ray Rosales and featherweight Alfredo Pena was nodded by Pendleton's Charles Brown.

the fore with 118½ points, but Chris Kiskaddon's Spirit, with 112½ points, could upset the appcart, particularly with Derek Bayliss on the tiller.

Other contests will be anticlimactical; it is all over in the IC class, as the perennial winner Jake Wosser has his Rutan home free, and John Rumsey's Oriole in the Bird Class has also decimated his opposition. Nor can the victory of Scott Cauchols's Trigger (San Francisco Y.C.) in the hot Bear class be denied, a most convincing win.

Sunday's races will start at 11:30 a.m., starting line as usual off the Corinthian clubhouse. After the races, there will be a trophy award party and even the non-winners will have their heart aches somewhat lessened; there will be free cocktails.

Racing Lost Colorful Individual With Recent Death Of Russ Brophy

When that airplane swept Knutte Rockne to his death on the plains of Kansas in 1931, it swept a lot of color off the football fields of the U.S.A.

Horse racing lost one of its most colorful individuals when they buried Russ Brophy last Thursday.

Russ was a bookmaker long before California legalized racing. He was a protégé of Gene Normille, famous thoroughbred personality, who ran the open betting ring at Caliente before the racetracks installed parimutuel betting. Brophy was Normille's "boy." He rose to the top in his field as an odds-maker, pari-mutuel director and wire service manager.

Down through the years at any racetrack in California he was known as the Golden Boy of Racing from Frisco, the fastest guy with a buck you ever saw. And it was always his own buck.

A product of the Mission District in San Francisco, Brophy was an adult odds-maker when most kids his age were in short pants. He had a trigger sharp brain, equal to the present IBM machine. And he was dead on the level.

WHEN SANTA ANITA first opened, Normille and Brophy were hired to take charge of the track's "comeback money." In case you do not know what comeback money is, it was the layoff of bets made throughout the country and phoned or brought to the track by the biggest bookmakers or their messengers in the U.S.A. Hundreds of thousands floated into the coffers of the state's parimutuel handle every day of racing. There were no "beefs" from the bookies and business increased for that reason. Brophy's or Normille's word that a bookie was covered was like saying "you're down." And they did it and meant it. In fact, comeback money in the early days of Santa Anita racing sometimes was more than the handle at the track. And because of this growing industry the security of legalized racing was threatened. So Doc Strub eliminated the convenience AFTER the track was solidly established.

The saga of Brophy as the Golden Boy of Racing from San Francisco was an award Russ cherished. He loved San Francisco and racing. He was a true horse player and couldn't understand why it was legal to bet at the racetrack, and illegal to wager in the downtown area.

For a short time in his career Brophy, from a high tree several hundred yards from the Santa Anita track, and dangling from a small booth, was able to send the wire service the results of races. In this way Brophy helped the wire service, especially the eastern bookie market because of the time difference.

THEY TELL me before the law yanked him outta the tree booth he was as accurate as the magic eyes on results. He made no boo-boos. He was an exact caller of a race and his sight was pin point sharp, even though he was several hundred yards away from the actual finish line.

A few years ago Brophy visited me in Marin County, aged and jittery and his iron nerves shattered. The only thing he had left of the once crackling sharp boy I knew was his pride and he took that with him to his grave. Like Damon Runyon predicted, all horse players die broke. And Brophy was one of the most avid horse players I ever knew.

He is gone but his memory in racing as the Golden Boy from S.F. will never die. Russ was strong in his likes and dislikes, but he was always first on the barrel-head and first to say—"it's on me." I know I won't be the last one to say goodbye, Russ—

Giants Reward Miller With 'Fat' Contract

Ace relief pitcher Stu Miller went to a banquet last night and came away with a trophy, praise from the National League president, his fattest contract ever with the San Francisco Giants, and a fireman's hat.

Miller, 34, the winning pitcher in the first 1961 All-Star game and a star in the second one, posted a 14-5 record with the Giants and was credited with 12 saves.

He and Giants' Vice President Charles Feeney conferred at the baseball banquet of the San Francisco Press and Union League Club after failing to reach agreement in previous meetings.

When it was Feeney's turn to talk, he announced, "Stu and I just reached an agreement."

$28,000 PACT

Although terms weren't announced formally, the 165-pound right-hander was believed to have a pact calling for about $28,000 this season.

National League President Warren Giles, said that "Miller added to the prestige of the league by his stellar performances in both All-Star games."

The little hurler also received the Sporting News' "Fireman of the Year" award, San Francisco Fire Chief William Murray named Miller an honorary Fire Chief and presented him a helmet bearing a big 37, Miller's uniform number

Livie Leads Tars Over Siskiyou '5'

The College of Marin Tars — mean as ever — will plow into Shasta College tonight at Sir Francis Drake High in San Anselmo at 8 o'clock.

The Tars will go on the court with 5-1 Golden Valley Conference record and first place position after revengefully smashing Siskiyou College out of co-ownership of first place last night. Coach Cal Riemcke's cagers—smarting from the conference opener when Siskiyou handed Marin its only defeat to date — blasted into the northmen for a 94-86 victory. The halftime count was 52-37 for Marin, and at one point in the final period the Mariners were out in front by 18 points.

Marin's offense clicked like a metronome as Lynn Livie led the music to the tune of 29 points, most of which were from lovely set shots from the guard spots. Behind the maestro was Dave Neumann, who did fast breaking for 21 points. Neumann was the game's top rebounder as well. Another versatile Tar was Steve Bryant, who gave the boards a good going over as well as the baskets. He tallied 15.

Siskiyou, a squad that kept coming on, thought it might gain an advantage when in the second division Tar defensive men Bill Wallace and Mike Kavanagh both fouled out. Also pivot man Jim Mitchell was ineligible. But Randy Petrini filled the gap both at forward and when he was switched to center spot.

Siskiyou employed a man-to-man defense against Marin, and with about four minutes to go in the contest, opened up with a full court press. It helped because it ate an 18-point spread down to an 8-point margin.

The Tars alternated from man-to-man to zone defense throughout the contest. "I was pleased with them," said coach Riemcke of his team. "They ran all phases of offense real well and did many things correctly, as the scoring shows."

INGO BATTERS FOE IN FIRST COMEBACK TRY

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Ingemar Johansson, former world heavyweight champion, said today, "I've won my first comeback fight and I'll win a lot more in my bid to get back to the top."

Johansson toyed with Joe Bygraves of Jamaica, former British Empire heavyweight champion, before a sellout crowd of 6,200 at the Maeshallen Stadium last night. Irish referee Andy Smythe stopped the fight in the seventh round.

At that point Bygraves, who had taken a four count in the second round from a short right from Johansson, was almost out on his feet. His left eyebrow gushed blood from a barrage of punches taken in the sixth round.

Bygraves' hands dropped to his side in the seventh and referee Smythe stopped the fight after 2:08 of the round.

Giants Top Drake, Fifth League Win

The last place Sir Francis Drake Pirates put up a rugged fight but couldn't hold back the Redwood tide in San Anselmo last night as the defending Marin County Athletic League champions put down the hosts 41-32. The win gave Redwood a 5-2 record and kept the team in second place with Marin Catholic in the league.

Despite Brad Busch, their chief scorer being ill and out of action, the Pirates held coach Dick Hart's Giants to an 8-8 count at the end of the first period, a 21-17 stat in favor of Redwood at the half, and scored the same number of points as Redwood in the third period. Redwood took advantage of the slight edge in the final quarter and picked up a healthy 13 counts to Drake's eight for the win.

Neither team hit well, Redwood 24 per cent (16-66) and Drake 21 per cent (11-53), but both put on a real dog fight for some 1,000 fans.

Coach Carl Brown of Drake threw a man-to-man defense against the Giants with a close watch on Giant hot shot guard Jay Johnson. Drake's defensive hustler and leading floor man Mark Boero held Johnson to eight digits in the first half, but Jay hits from where he must, and did in the second division to pace the game with 21 points. Drake's leading scorer was John McBride with 10 points, mostly on field goals.

Coach Brown said the whole Pirate squad played well including Boero and John Wallace on defense, but that his troops may have lost the game at the free throw line. "We missed on too many one and one situations," he said. Both teams missed 13 charities, Drake 8 for 21 and Redwood 9 for 22.

In the action Redwood was minus Hillard Witt and early in the contest tall man Doug Detrick suffered a knee injury in a ball scramble. Reserve Rick Skinner did a commendable job in Detrick's place. Playing most of the game, the 6-foot-1 junior grabbed 13 rebounds. But the standout defense player of all three MCAL games last night was Redwood's Pete Coy who stole a season high of 21 rebounds.

Stanford is now in second place in the standings of the Athletic Association of Western Universities Big Five.

Stanford plays the Big Five leader, UCLA, in tonight's attraction in Santa Monica, while Southern California meets Loyola.

Washington beat lowly California, 70-63, at Berkeley. It was the sixth straight setback for the Bears. Dick Smith of Cal was the game's leading scorer, however, with 18 points.

The win gave Washington a 5-4 record in the conference and 11-7 overall, Cal's overall record is 6-13.

Mar. 20 New Date For Bantam Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Eder Jofre will defend his world bantamweight title against Herman Marquez of Stockton, March 20 at the Cow Palace.

Co-promoter Lou Thomas yesterday announced that all sides had agreed to the new date after Jofre had asked that the original Feb. 26 time be postponed.

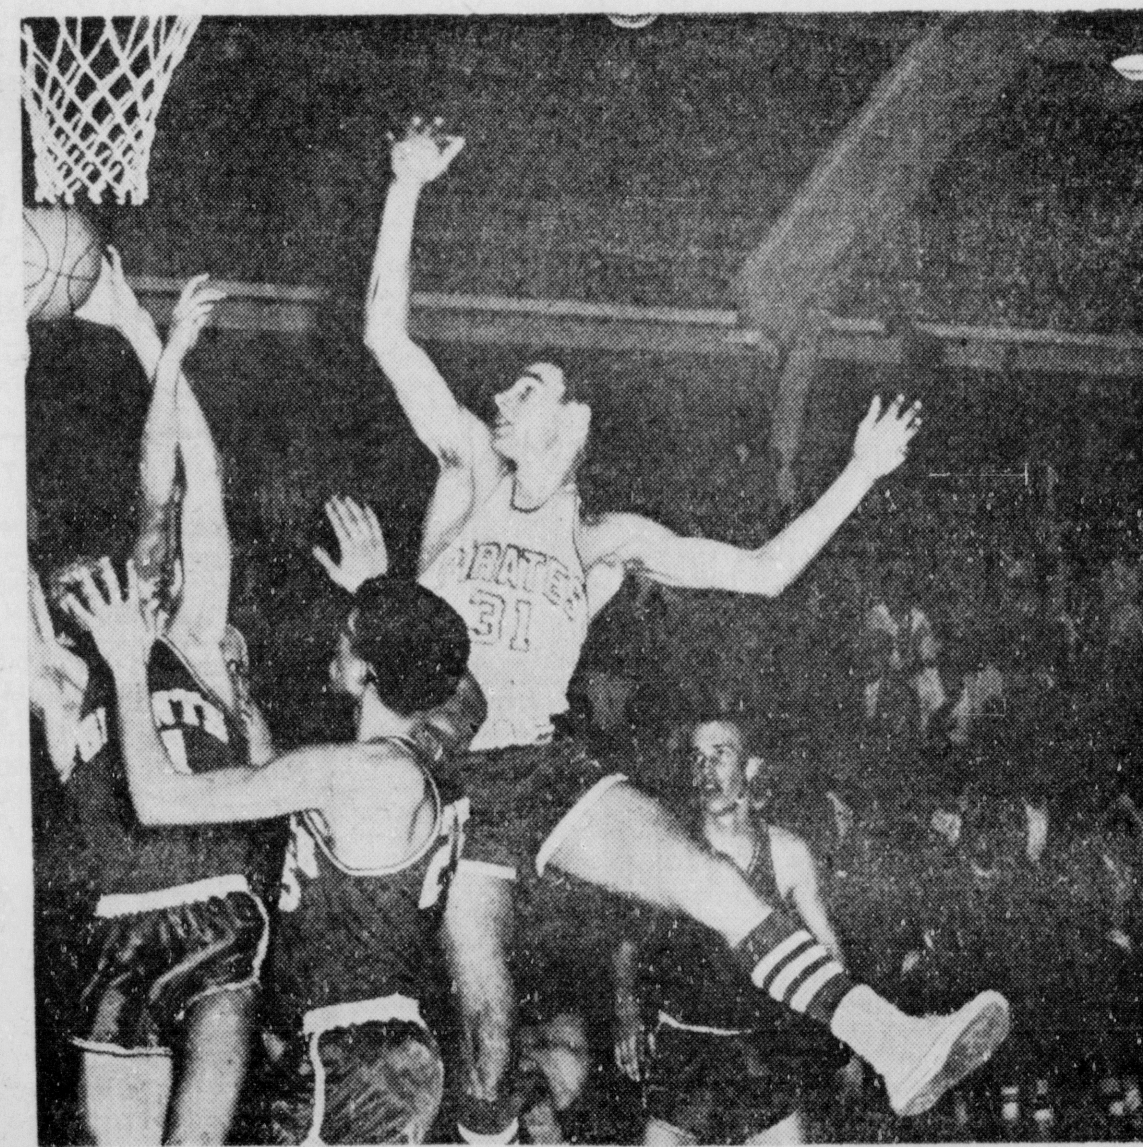

Shig Takahashi, one of Marquez's two managers, said in Stockton that the husky little longshoreman was disappointed by the postponement, which was caused when Jofre sustained a dislocated wrist.

Takahashi said that Marquez would keep in training, but slow down a little.

HIGH-HANDED TOAST — Redwood and Sir Francis Drake players look as if they are making a toast as they struggle for a rebound in last night's game in San Anselmo. Redwood won the Marin County Athletic League

San Rafael Labors To Edge Tam, Retains Prep Loop Lead

The first place San Rafael High Bulldogs led the way in keeping the Marin County Athletic League stable last night as they labored to a 39-35 win over fourth-place Tamalpais High.

It gave the Bulldogs a 6-1 record, one game in front of the loop, but last night's paycheck didn't come easy for coach Mike Diaz' Bulldogs.

The Indians at one point in the third period had the Bulldogs quaking in their boots as coach Eddie Chavez' squad led by seven points. It wasn't a freakish moment either because Tam had ended the first period in the lead 9-5, and the half 17-13.

FAST BREAK

But the Bulldogs turned on with a fast break offense in the third quarter and at its conclusion were ahead for the first time in the contest by two. It took a 15-point spurge to do it. Balanced scoring supported coach Diaz' comment that the win was by a team effort. Bulldog Rod Monti tallied 11 points on four field goals and three charities and Bruce MacPhail and Rich Robertson each got nine points, Jack Haney five.

Bill Gillingham of Tam shared high scoring honors with Monti. Pete Bardea improved his scoring count last night with nine points on four fat field goals and a free throw. Art Foster, Art Ford and floor leader Warren Domino of Tam, each tallied four points. Tam led San Rafael with 14 to 11 field goals but the Bulldogs took advantage of the key line and hit 17 to Tam's 7 free throws.

Marin Wildcats Romp To Win Over Novatans

Marin Catholic Wildcats avenged themselves last night by tromping the Novato Hornets in a Marin County Athletic League contest at Greenbrae, 56-29.

Coach Bernie Schneider's Catholics were determined to hit hard after being upset by Novato in the league's first round of action. The Hornets gave the Wildcats a real tussle in the first period. It ended in an 8-8 tie. But then the Wildcats could see that coach O. T. McAttee's Novatans looked like they were going to stage a repeat performance and began a full court press defense.

The strategy cracked the game wide open as Marin offensive leaders John Enos, Ron O'Connell and Jerry Smith led the scoring which amassed 23 points for Marin to Novato's six during the second period. By the end of the third quarter the score was 41-22 for Marin. The Wildcats glided until the gun and still doubled Novato's points in the final period.

HIGH SCORERS

For Marin Enos and Smith each scored 10 and O'Connell led the way with 12 on six field goals. High man for Novato was captain Joe Colfer with 11 points followed by Nick Willard with 10.

The Wildcats will host Napa in a non-league contest tonight at 7 p.m. Their second game of a back-to-back schedule this weekend will be against a squad that has dumped league leading San Rafael twice this season.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Simple Idea Often Overlooked In The Best Of Bridge Combat

Unless something goes wrong with the deal, a player gets exactly 13 cards. If he gets a large number of one suit, he must get fewer cards of the other suits. The idea is simple, but it is often overlooked in the heat of combat.

West opened the king of diamonds, and dummy's ace won. Since South had to lose a diamond and a heart, the contract depended on how he played the trumps.

The "standard" play in the trump suit is to lead low from the dummy and finesse the jack. In this case, East would eventually get two trump tricks and the contract would be defeated.

Bobby Nail, one of the Houston experts who is scheduled to play for North America in the world championship this week, found a better way to play the trumps. He remembered that West's bidding showed a large number of diamonds and that West was therefore quite likely to be short in spades.

LEADS QUEEN: Nail led the queen of spades from dummy at the second trick. East covered with the king, and declarer won with the ace.

Nail next led a club to dummy's ace and returned a low trump. East casually played the seven of spades, and Nail covered with the eight.

This deep finesse could lose nothing. If West were able to win the trick, the trumps would break 3-2, and South's jack would eventually draw the last trump. As it happened, the trumps broke 4-1, and declarer's deep finesse won the trick. Now it was easy to limit the trump loss to one trick.

DAILY QUESTION: As dealer, you hold:

♣ A J

What do you say?
Answer: Bid one heart. Even though you have 16 points and strength in all four suits you bid the 6-card major suit rather than 1 NT.

at 12 June Road, Tiburon, and 223 Cala del Arroyo, Stinson Beach. Many trees were felled in Mill Valley and elsewhere. Shingles were blown off roofs in Sausalito and other communities.

Kentfield firemen reported the civil defense siren on Vista Grande blown down and out of service.

These rain measurements were reported from 8 a.m. yesterday to 8 a.m. today: Santa Venetia and Fairfax, .80 of an inch; Larkspur, .75; San Anselmo, .69; Tamalpais Valley, .60; Novato, .35.

Hollis' Home Broken Into —$3,000

Thieves broke into the office of Marin County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis last night and stole more than $3,000 in electric typewriters and dictaphones.

George Emmons, director of business activities, said the full list of missing items is not known, but as of this noon, six IBM electric typewriters and two dictaphones are gone. Each typewriter is worth about $400, and dictaphones cost about $300 each.

Mrs. Dorothy McMahon, Dr. Hollis' secretary, discovered the burglary at 10:30 this morning. San Rafael police were investigating the break-in. A pane of glass had been broken in a side door to the building, and the door forced open.

The county school superintendent's office is at 317 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

POWERS

The U.S. crossing point in West Berlin.

In Moscow the Soviet Union said one of the reasons Powers was released was a desire to improve relations with the United States.

A brief announcement on Moscow radio also said Powers had been released in response to pleas from his relatives. It said the decision to release him was made by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet. The Presidium is the body which acts for the Soviet (Parliament) when it is in recess. Its actions always are ratified by the Soviet.

The announcement made no mention of Colonel Abel.

In Milledgeville, Ga., Mrs. Francis Gary Powers expressed herself this way: "I'm so happy. Believe me, I'm just overjoyed."

These words came bubbling from Mrs. Powers this morning when she learned her husband had been released by the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Powers said her plans were not definitely settled, but that she hoped to see her husband by tomorrow.

"I am awaiting another call before deciding what to do," she said. "My plans right now are to stay here."

Oliver Powers, the pilot's father, declared, "I was hoping it would happen but I didn't have an idea when." The Virginia shoemaker said he hoped his son didn't want to go back to flying.

And pilot Powers has been quoted as saying, upon leaving Russia's Vladimir Prison:

"I will never again fly over the Soviet Union."

Chances are Oliver Powers will get his wish.
